Q-1 You are Dist collector

constitutional morality

vs

social morality -

The above situation presents a case wherein the execution of a government scheme is challenged by the societal condition of the place. The problems becomes more because of rebellion against the caste equation in the place.

ETHICAL ISSUE INVOLVED

1) Appointment of new cook is not acceptable to a few parents because of cook being from Dalit Community.

The issue is between keeping the Dalit cook in the job (Avoiding Untouchability) and keeping in mind the education of childrens that will suffer if he is kept in the job.

+ how to bring social change gradually?

OPTIONS AVAILABLE

1) Calling a meeting of parents and making them understand the legal provisions as well as giving examples of leaders like Gandhi and Ambedkar who fought hard to eradicate the menace of Untouchability from our country.

2) Since the problem is with food quality and irregularity I would check other arrangements like storage of food, menu followed for every day, hygienic condition of kitchens and other parameters affecting food quality and irregularity.

Is it the moot question?

ASER

According to India State of Education Report (ISER) by NIPED Pratham, Primary education in India is highly divided between Private and government school. The private school children performance is approximately 75% on the set of formal tests while public govt. school struggle in 30's.

Source of this data?

As a District collector Education is definite priority for me as it is a part of both Fundamental Right & DPSP.

Lack of Hygienic Toilet Facility

- * With Swachh Bharat Abhiyan of govt. school should not have been in the situation.
- * I would ask the concerned ministries and officials of Urban and Rural areas to speed up construction of separate toilet for boys and girls in all schools at priority.
- * I would take a regular note of the progress of the same.

Lack of Clean Drinking Water

- * Installation of water filters
- * chlorination as a safe measure
- * water bottles (spay during rainy season)
- * Regular checking of water quality
