SECTION-A

1. Comment on the following into 150 words:

(10 × 5 = 50)

- Autonomy in the PSEs is a misnomer. Political agendas/ Ministers control the strings. Comment.
- Civil Service Law is the need of the hour to better organise the Civil Services. Comment.
- Ordinance making by the Executive should be appropriately restrained. Comment.
- Comment on the impact of the Political culture of India on its Administration.
- The Indian Administration of today is the resultant sum of Kautilyan, Weberian and Gandhian Influences. Comment.

a) Political interference in PSU functioning is a major cause for poor performance.

Autonomy is needed in PSU to ensure

- Fast decision making
  - Competition
  - Innovation & risk-taking capability (like ISRO Mangal Mission).
- Answer Contextually (5)

However autonomy exist only in paper.

- Appointment of ex-bureaucrats in Board of directors.
- Administered pricing mechanism
- Control over investment decisions e.g. ONGC buying HPCL

Remarks

Thus, in reality, political agendas control PSUs. Especially in disinvestment-process every year, LIC buys government's stakes through creative accounting. Good

However, in recent years many reforms have been taken to promote autonomy like revamped MOU scheme, Maharatna, Navratna & Mini-ratna status, etc.

PSUs should be made more autonomous, while making them more accountable at the same time.

b) A healthy functioning relation between ministers and civil servants is the need of good governance. <sup>mismatch in qual & cont</sup> - <sup>overall aspect of CS</sup> lower

At present, civil services, and their relations to ministers are guided under multiple acts like code of Conduct Rules, 1954, AIS rules, etc.

Moreover, ministers use public personnel management as disciplinary measures like postings, promotions & transfers. (3)

Also, there are issues in governance redressal regarding pay, salaries and conditions of services in civil services.

To overcome above issues, and ARC has recommended a civil Services Law, dealing with

- 1) Conditions of Service
- 2) Entire personnel administration
- 3) Disciplinary matters after replacing A-310 & 311
- 4) Civil Services Code of Ethics
- 5) Civil Service Authority.

Remarks

thus, by bringing uniformity and reducing scope for political interference, Civil Services Law would better organise civil services.

c) The ordinance making power of both President and Governor has been criticised in recent times.

A. 123 & A. 213 under constitution empowers President & Governor resp. to issue ordinance when legislature is not in session. However, it is not a regular power, and should be used exceptionally.

However, instances have been in past indicating misuse. Writes contextually

i) eg. D.C. Wadhwa case on ordinance, and more recent Krishna Kumar case of Bihar govt.

ii) In emergency period, ordinance power was highly misused.

Remarks

iii) Recent - several or promulgations of emergency properly ordinance violation of separation of power

3 1/2

violation of constitution

escape route for parliamentary scrutiny through regular bill procedure

In order to restrain ordinance power, various judgements should become guidelines.

Thus, only in exceptional circumstances should ordinances be used.

d) Riggs prismatic-sala model identifies impact of ecology on its administration.

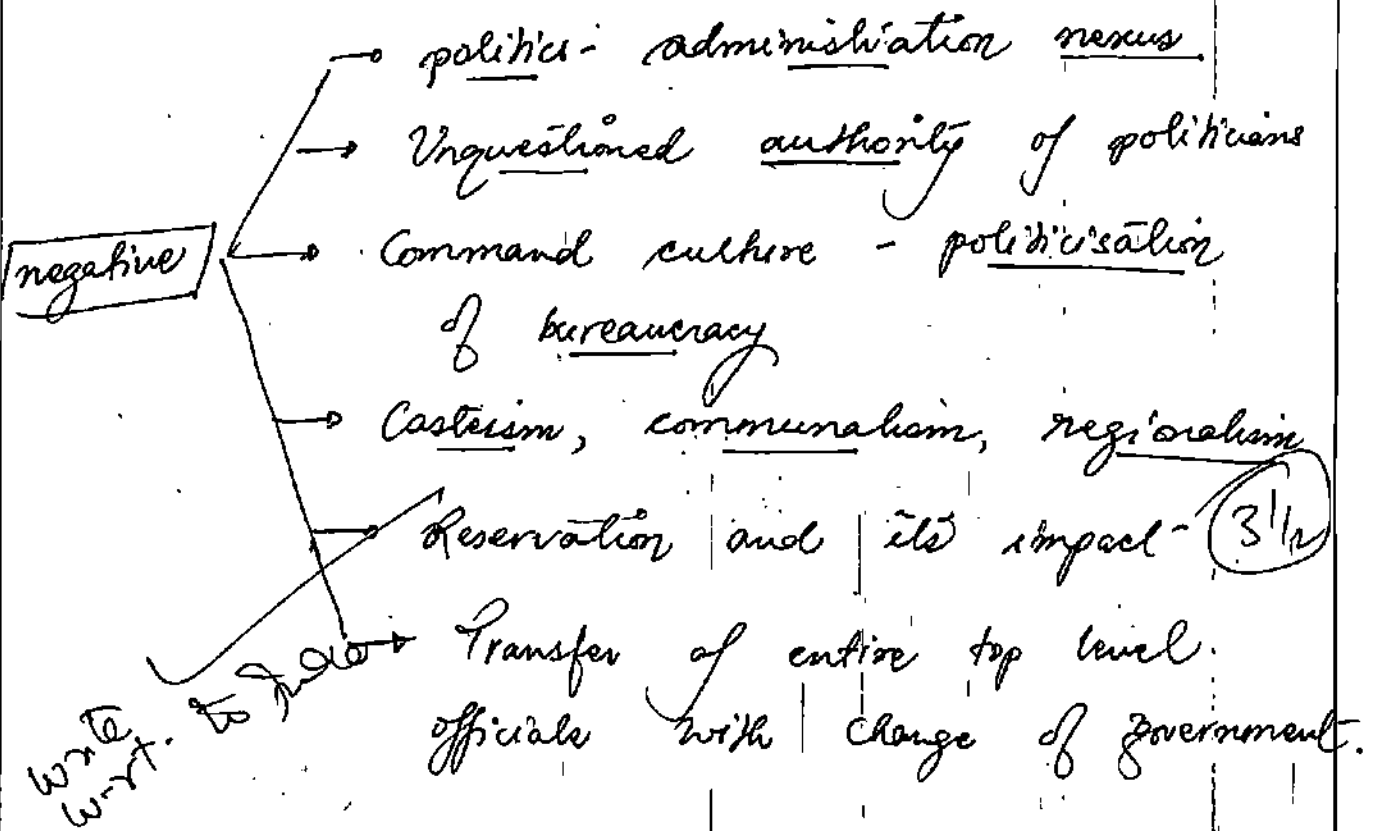

Political culture refers to political ideology, values, behaviour and psychology that guides political parties and electoral relationship & interaction. Its impact on administration is both positive and negative.

Remarks

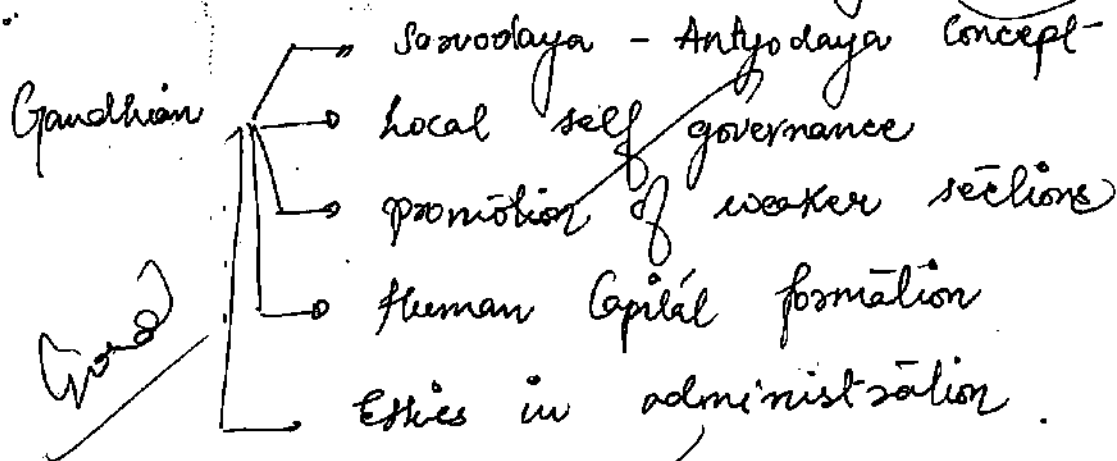

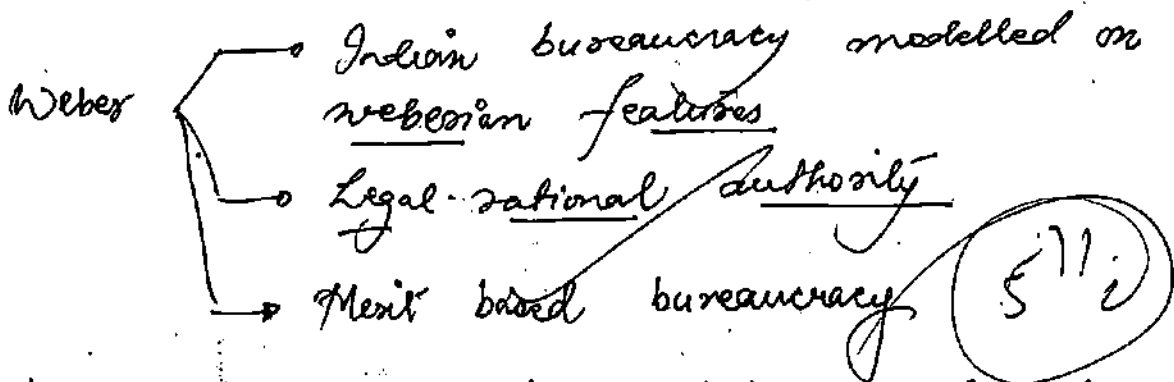

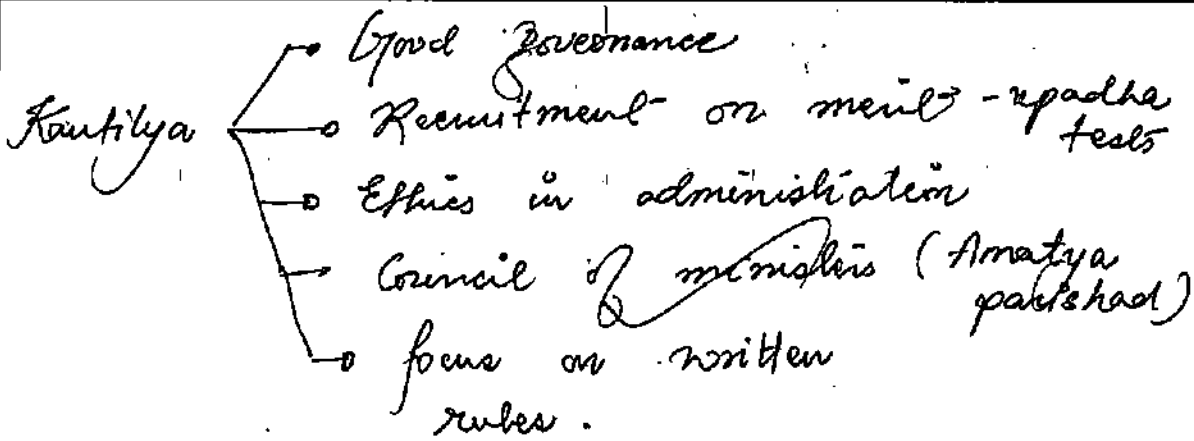

Thus, political neutrality must be strengthened through code of conduct for both ministers & civil services & establishing Civil Services Authority as per 2nd ARC

1) As administration evolves in a society, it always had certain historical influences e.g. colonial legacy in Indian administration

Different influences on Indian administration can be summed up as :

Apart from these, Indian administration also has Mughal & British influence. Also, it has evolved and adapted to changes of NPM, LPG, PCA, etc.

2. Answer the following questions:

- (a) The governments rely on public sector undertakings (PSUs) to mobilize resources. In the light of post economic liberalization that took place in early nineties and its effect on PSUs in India, analyse if the government's reliance on PSUs is a right step forward in mobilizing resources. (250 Words) (20)
- (b) NITI Ayog's "strategy for new India@75" is an attempt to give new thrust to development. Critically examine. (250 Words) (20)
- (c) "Listening to the voice of citizens not just during periodic elections but on an ongoing basis is the starting point of participation of citizens in governance". Comment with example(s). (100 Words) (10)

a) PSUs have the dual objective of public welfare and resource mobilisation.

Indian PSUs like ONGC, LIC are providing government extra revenue to provide social goods like health and education. However, in LPG era, where significant increase in corporate sector, PSUs in India need an over review.

Remarks

Impact of LPG on PSUs

	Pre LPG era	post LPG era
1)	Dominant in almost all sectors	Dominant in largely core sectors of energy, insurance, etc.
2)	Over 100 sick PSUs	74 sick PSUs (NERI Aayog.)
3)	Total revenue: 30,000 cr in 1991	present revenue, over 1 lakh crore
4)	poor governance	Corporate governance

Thus, as PSUs in LPG era have become better, makes a strong case for using them for resource mobilization given the enterprising state in NPM era.

However, certain issues remain in PSU sector:

1) Still many loss making, like Air India (debt of ₹6,000 crore)

Remarks

2) Lack of autonomy in PSUs - bureaucratic heads, administered prices, etc

3) Many PSUs in non-core sector like cement, tele-com, aviation, etc. Lack of content as per analysis, ques.

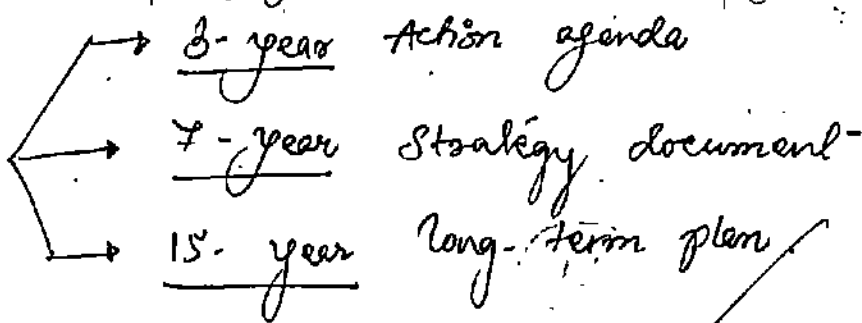

Thus, govt. can mobilise resources using PSUs, but only after certain reforms so as to make them more suitable for neo-liberal era.

(4)

In present case, govt. should divesttick PSUs, promote competition and opt out of non-core sectors as per 14th FC recommendations.

b) NITI Aayog has replaced the Planning Commission as the new policy - think tank and planning body.

With spirit of indicative planning, NITI Aayog proposed 3 key planning documents.

As India, still need rapid socio-economic development to become $ 5 trillion economy by 2024, and improve on human development front - poverty, education, health, skill development, gender equality, etc.,. Thus, strategy for new India @ 75 is in sync with needs of development-administration.

Thus, this strategy is suitable for development as it focuses on Administration of development and development of administration.

However, still this document lacks certain key reforms

- Decentralised planning
- Strengthening local bodies
- Multi-actor governance
- Citizen participation

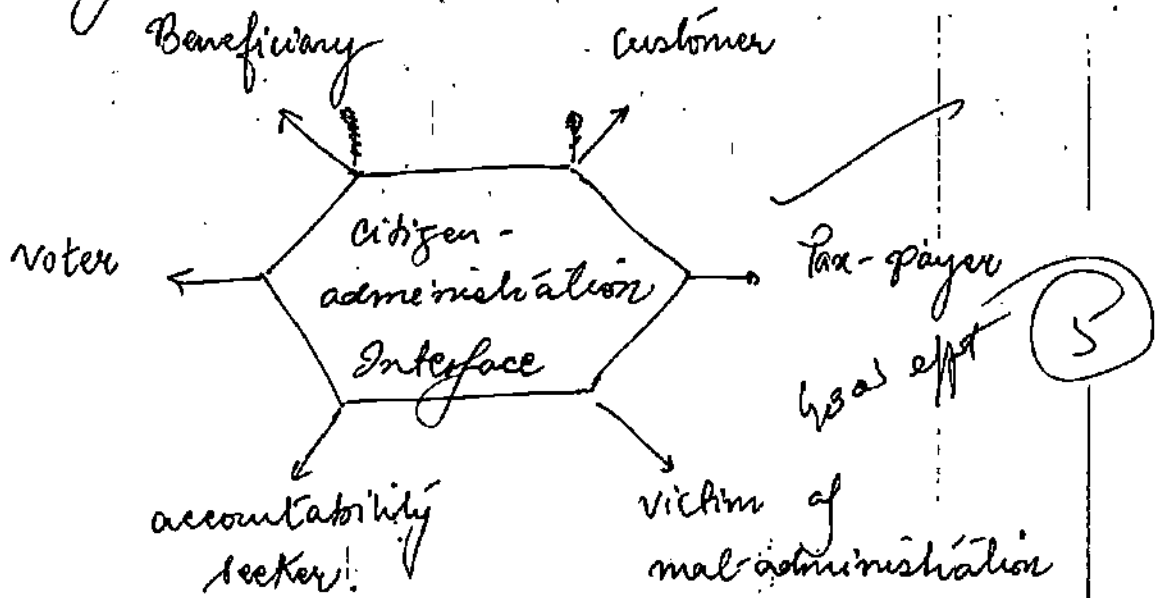

Remarks

Nonetheless, it is a step in right-direction, Government should implement it with full support, simultaneously pushing for required reforms.

Remarks

c) Citizen participation just begins from voting process, it goes further to policy making, implementation and evaluation. (Follett deliberative democracy) for example, participation in public policy formulation through agenda setting, policy inputs etc. like MKSS, RTI, Jan Lokpal bill, etc.

Further, people's participation in implementation e.g. Swachh Bharat, Abhiyan - Toilet Construction, MNREGA - work on demand etc.

The most great is of accountability introduction. In this regard filing RTI applications, participating in social audits, Jan Sunwai etc. is involved.

However, at present, situation is more traditional than in sync with road governance. Thus, government should enhance citizen participation.

Remarks

3. Answer the following questions:

- (a) In the light of demand by few state governments to create Legislative Councils in their respective legislatures, critically discuss the desirability of establishing such bodies in states. Do you think there should be a national policy to deal with their establishment? Examine. (250 Words) (20)
- (b) With regard to 'Fiscal federalism', the union government has chosen to spend nearly half of its fiscal stimulus through the state governments. Do you think states are administratively efficient to spend these funds prudently and productively? Critically examine. (250 Words) (20)

SECTION-B

5. Comment on the following into 150 words:

(10 × 5 = 50)

- (a) "Integrity Pacts" can be an effective tool to promote transparency and accountability in public contracts and lead to better governance. Comment with an example.
- (b) The concept of social audit is more comprehensive than that of traditional audit. Comment.
- (c) Budgetary support to nationalised banks is a necessary evil in light of NPA issues and the social purpose these institutions serve. Comment while keeping 'the Indradhansh plan' in consideration.
- (d) Panchayat's functions can be enhanced by use of ICT and instil efficiency, transparency and accountability. Comment.
- (e) CRPF plays a critical role in law and order administration, despite it being a state subject. Comment.

Integrity should not only be upheld, but also displayed in activities of civil servants, and State.

'Integrity pacts' are <sup>what do they contain</sup> part of contracts of MOUs Government signs with various private players, participating in public service delivery.

Write conceptually 3

Pros

- Clear of unambiguous
- Shows seriousness of government
- Detailed course of operation

Remarks

Cons:

- Difficult to objectively
- Reluctance of private players
- poor administration & monitoring.

For example, PPP projects can sign Integrity pacts with government.

Accountability & transparency should remain core concern in PPP initiatives.

6) Social audit is based on ~~horizontal~~ & diagonal audit, directly involving the stakeholders.

Unlike traditional Audit, social audit is more comprehensive and real-time, given it is conducted at Gram Sabha level <sup>most needed</sup> of levels.

Traditional Audit

- 1) paper audit
- 2) post-facto
- 3) professional
- 4) efficiency of economy
- 5) Specialised & more genuine

Social Audit

- process audit
Real time people's audit
Equity, empowerment & environment non-specified, but more understandable to public

(3 1/2)

Realising this CAB has issued guidelines for Social Audit & asked all state auditors to attend Social Audit to strengthen Social Audit.

Remarks

c) Government in Budget 2019-20 announced infusion of 70,000 crore to promote liquidity in PSBs.

Though given higher NPA to tune of over 10 lakh crore, and resulting slowdown in economy, budgetary support is necessary. However, given the poor governance of PSBs, such recapitalisation may result in further more NPAs. ~~the absence~~

Moreover, it amounts to public money being used to compensate for faults of corporate sector, whereas PSB should promote public money by savings & investments.

Therefore, budgetary support should be followed by governance reforms as under Indradhanush plan A to G reforms.

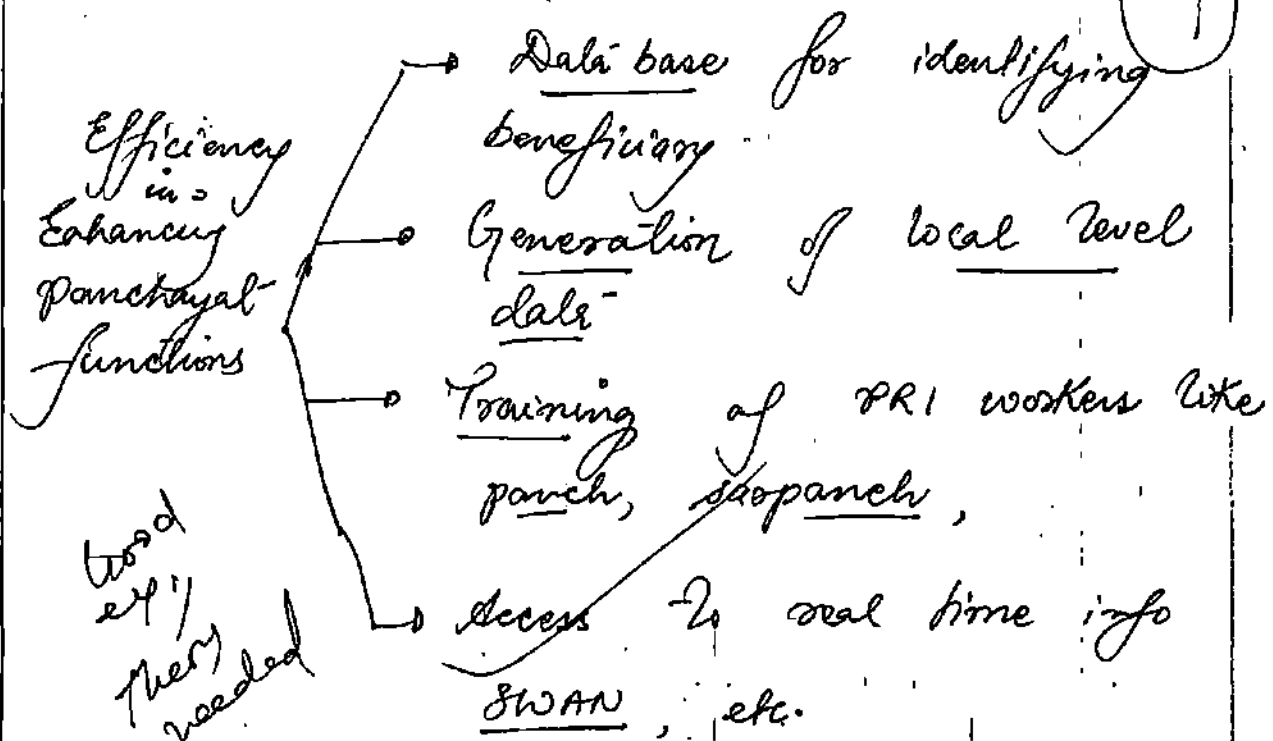

Remarks

relating to accountability
 Bank based business Empowerment -
 Financial health, etc.

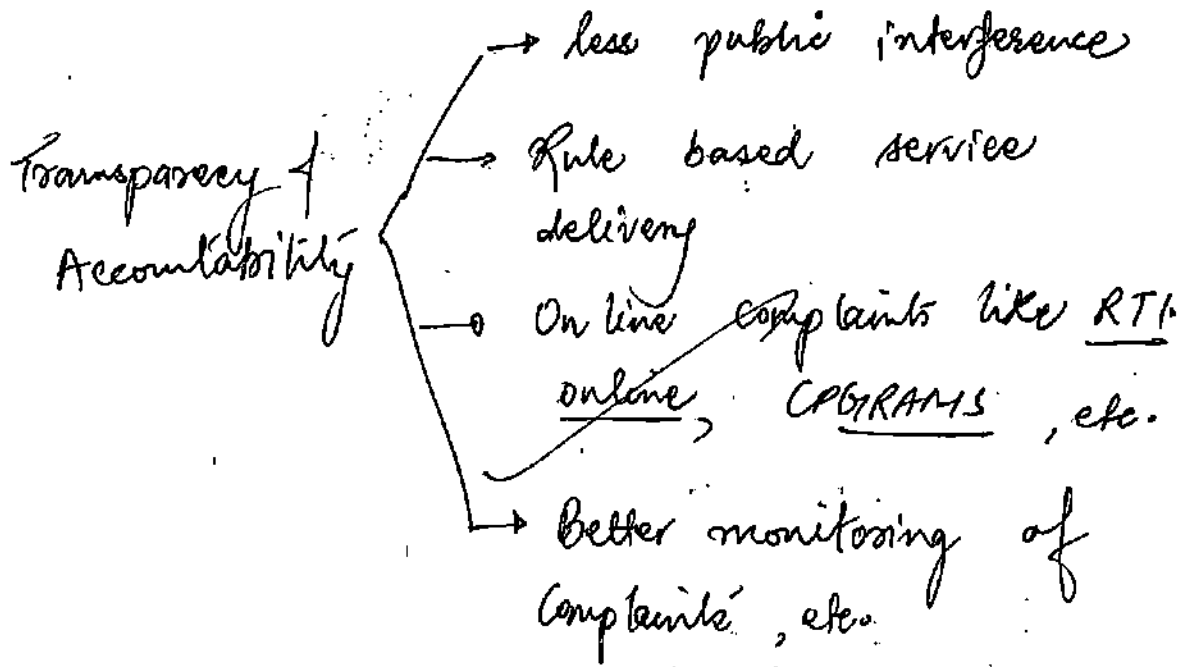

(4)

These reforms would ensure PSBs overall performance increases.

d) E-panchayat initiative under RUSA, seeks to realise true potential of ICT at local level.

Remarks

For example, Gangadivipalli Gram Panchayat, has demonstrated successful use of e-governance in local development like education, skill development, etc.

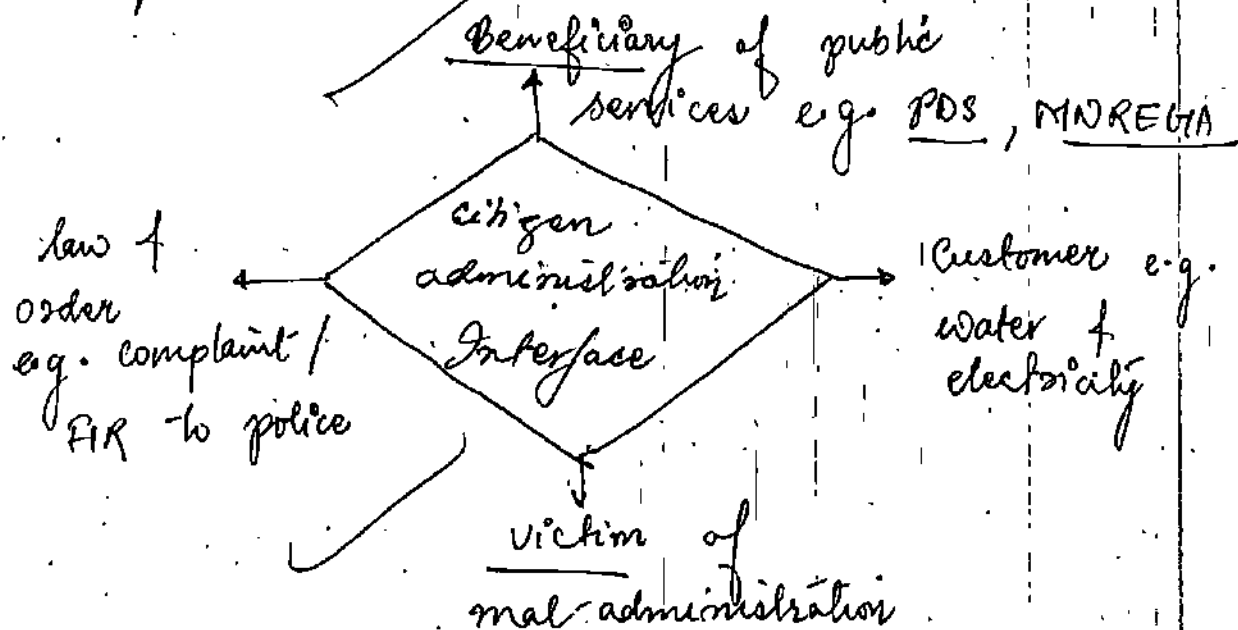

Remarks

6. Answer the following questions:

- (a) Accessibility to the civil servants is an important part of the grievance redressal mechanism and a measure of administrative responsiveness. Discuss and suggest measures to improve them. (250 Words) (20)
- (b) 2nd ARC identifies two seemingly contrary approaches to tackle corruption. Discuss. Also point out the factors identified by ARC which give rise to tendencies like corruption. (250 Words) (20)
- (c) "The Second Administrative Reforms Commission (ARC) makes a strong case for the principle of subsidiarity". Explain. (100 Words) (10)

a) Accountability and responsiveness are prime elements of good governance.

Given the rising roles and responsibility of State, civil servants have huge discretion and affect citizen's life on multiple levels:

Remarks

Thus, grievances are likely to occur and also should be properly addressed in spirit of good governance.

The first step of grievance redressal is filing complaint with the public servant i.e., accessibility to civil servant is the start-point. Though in e-governance era, online filing is increasing, but still many depts. & offices are yet to upgrade, especially at local level e.g. Block level.

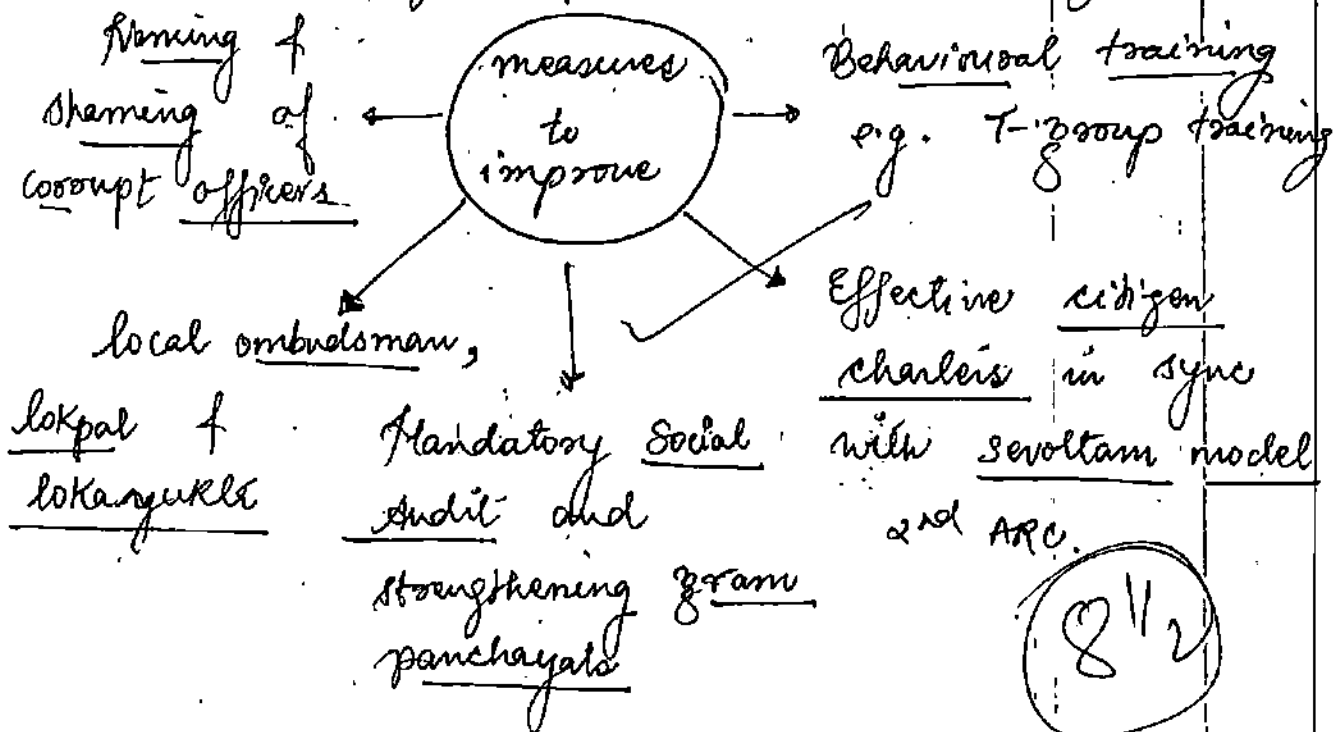

Another important aspect is responsiveness i.e., civil servant's response to the complaint which should be prompt and pro-active.

However, at present performance on both parameters is unsatisfactory. e.g. In most cases, aggrieved citizen don't know who to approach like in case of leakages in water supply, shortage of medicines at public dispensary etc.

Remarks

Moreover, response is also either indifferent or abusive. eg. FIR are not easily registered, eg. Rape case of Rajasthan, victimisation of citizens, etc promote e-governance & make better with focus on training of civil servants - Good effect -> Add more delivery

Ultimately, quality of public administration would improve as much as transparency & accountability is promoted.

b) 2nd ARC defines corruption as an act of abuse/misuse of public office for private gains.

The report notes that corruption for many has become a habit. However, it also notes that not all officers are corrupt, therefore it identifies two contrary approaches to tackle corruption:

most desired
more specific details req

promote ethics in administration by

- Exemplary behaviour
- Rewarding and recognising honesty & integrity

To promote

- code of ethics
- Civil service day awards
- Padma awards, etc.

Identify the corrupt and take strong action against them to create deterrence against deviant behaviour

To deter:

- Amendments to PCA, 1987
- Disciplinary actions
- Compulsory retirements
- Improve criminal justice system

Remarks

Also, ARC identifies demand and supply side of corruption as coercive corruption and collusive corruption.

more analysis needed

politicisation of civil services

- Erosion of neutrality

e.g. - MUNDHRA scam

(8/2)

protection of corrupt civil servants
A-211

Delays in prosecution & low conviction makes it safe

Factor responsible

Rising materialism and consumerism in

LPG era

popular acceptance of corruption - it has become new normal

Erosion of public values since 1960s onwards

Thus, corruption is rampant in administration, and 2nd ARC recommendations should be strictly followed.

c) In the era of good governance, decentralisation and devolution of powers and functions is necessary to improve citizen-participation.

In its report on Local Governance and organisational reform 2nd ARC, has strongly supported principle of subsidiarity.

It means that every level of government - Central and State should delegate what it can to lower level, provided it would be better administered there.
↑ check it

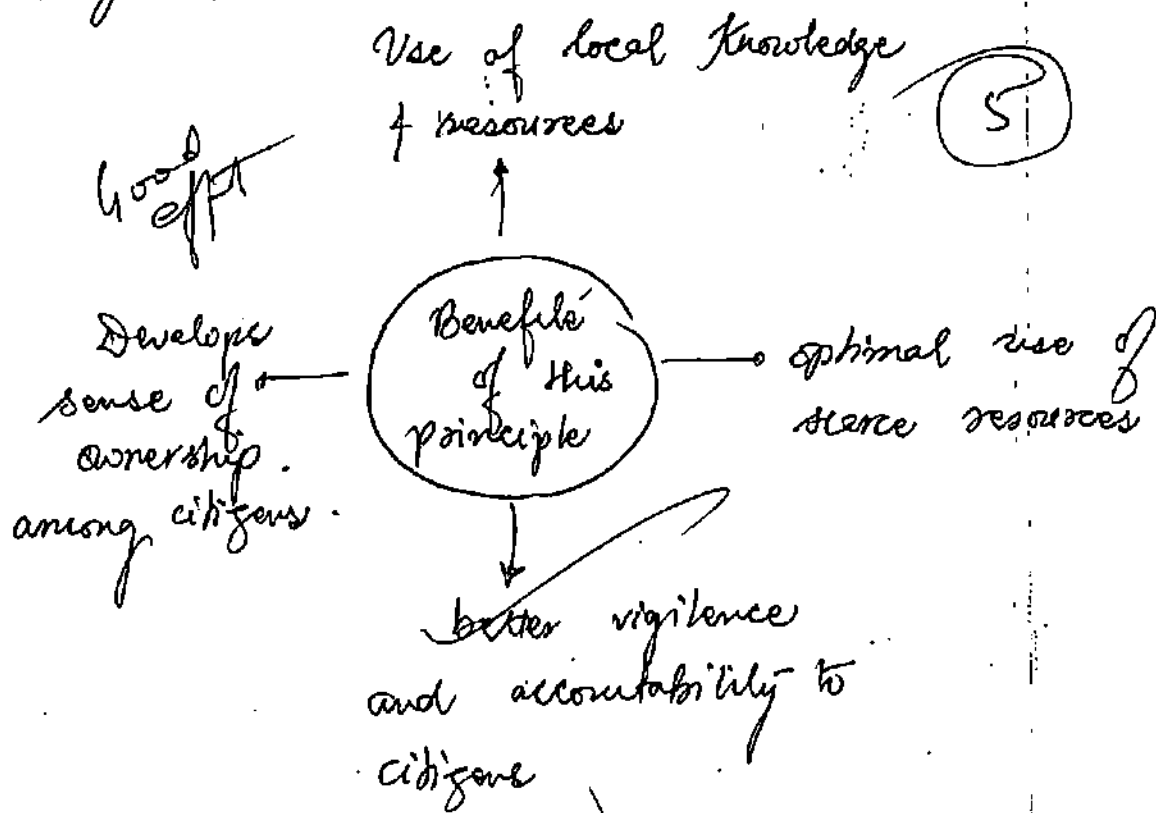

For example, 2nd ARC suggests that Union should function on tasks of nation-building, defence, energy security, International relations, etc. and delegate non-core functions to State government.

Similarly the State governments should do activity mapping and then delegate

Remarks

all the subjects in Schedule 11 & 12 to local bodies, plus additional subjects as well. e.g. PRIs should be responsible for issuing birth & death certificates, local policing etc. & ULBs should manage traffic, water supply, etc.

Thus, governments should focus on capacity building of local levels to help them perform greater administrative responsibility.

Remarks

7. Answer the following questions:

- (a) "Many of the weaknesses in budgeting reflect the failure to address linkages between the various functions of budgeting". What factors contribute to budget systems and processes that create a disabling environment for performance in the public sector, both by commission and by omission? (250 Words) (20)
- (b) A model policy for "Women in Police" is the need of the hour. Examine such a scenario and suggest the postulates of such a policy. (250 Words) (20)

8. Answer the following questions:

- (a) India's urbanisation template is clearly ripe for change. Discuss. Also highlight the mistakes in India's urban development strategy and how the smart city mission aims to correct it. Also suggest broad contours of the next-gen-urbanisation policy. (250 Words) (20)
- (b) Municipal governance in India is not sufficiently prepared to meet the challenges of frequent natural disasters. Elucidate the statement and add your own suggestions. (250 Words) (20)
- (c) Standing committees offer many advantages in the effective discharge of legislative responsibility of the Union Government. Discuss those advantages and suggest measures to further strengthen them. (100 Words) (10)

Indian urban areas are growing rapidly, with around 34% of population now living in cities & towns.

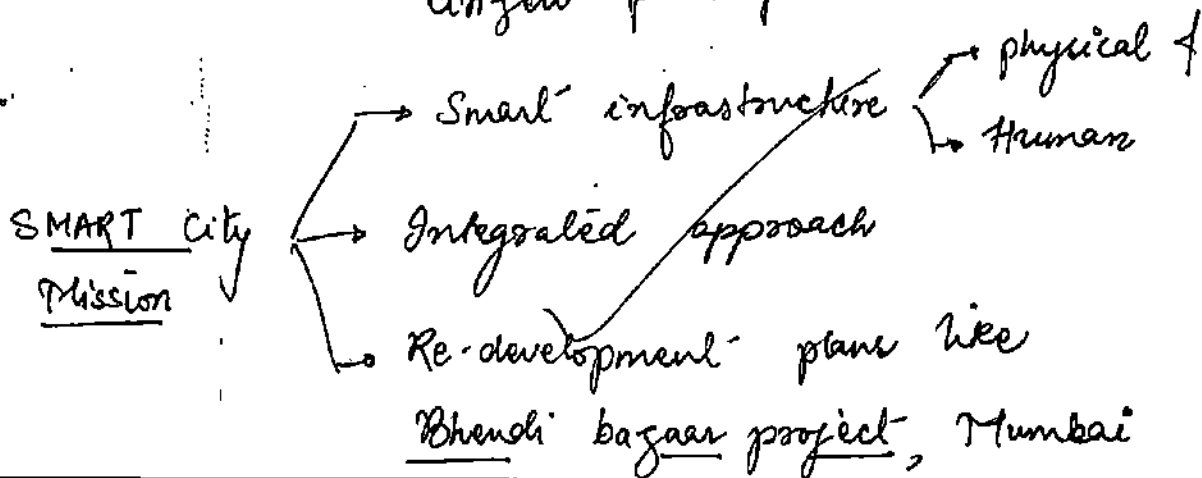

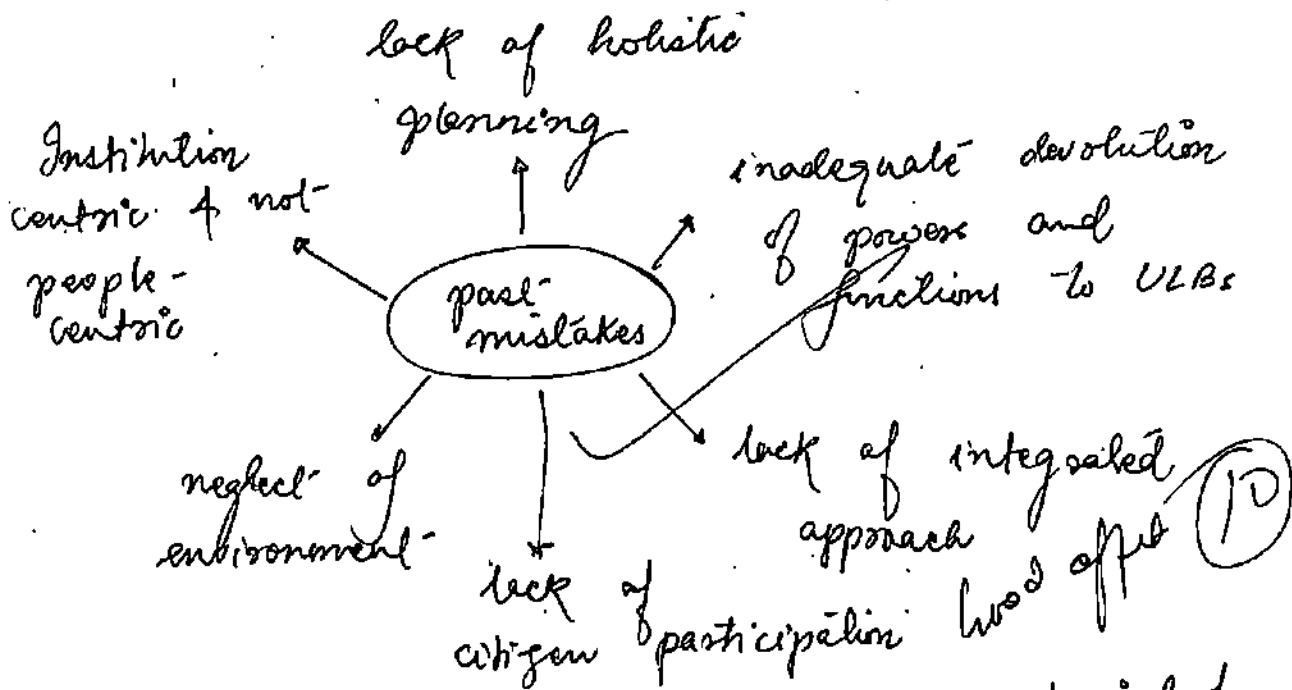

Ripe for change

- Urban areas contribute to 2/3rd of GDP
- per capita income is higher and increasing
- 60% of employment generation in Urban areas.

These facts suggest Urban areas are ready for change given they have enough own resources to modernise and develop better standard of living.

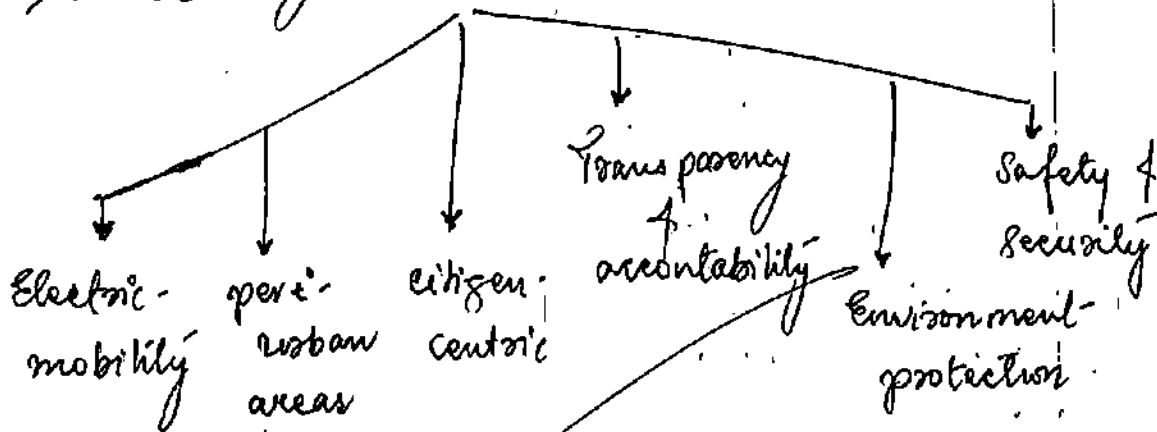

Remarks

However, past mistakes are looming causing issues like → 25% population in slums
 → Only 45% resources through own taxes
 → Excessive burden on existing infrastructure
 → Rising rate of crime
 → poor standards of living → environmental degradation

Remarks

With above features, Smart city can address, issues of planning, infrastructure and environment. Nonetheless, SMART city can't be a panacea, next-gen-urbanisation policy should focus on

With demography soon changing new areas like seniors citizen well being, etc would dominate urban planning.

Remarks

- b) Kerala floods are an example that even one of the best municipal bodies in the country are not prepared for frequent natural disasters.

Machinery of Disaster Management

NDMA

DDMA

at district level

More analysis needed

Though DDMA exists at district level, but there is no clear relation with PRIs and ULBs. Further challenges are :-

- 1) Poor capacity of municipal bodies, especially coordination with various departments
- 2) Lack of funds with bodies.

Remarks

3) Absence of local disaster management plan - no vulnerability mapping, no awareness, etc.

4) Lack of support from Central & State Governments

Thus, limiting capacity of municipal bodies.

Remarks

c) Committees are a permanent mechanism to exercise legislative scrutiny.

In fact, Wilson said "Congress in Committee is congress at work, and congress in session it is congress at display"

Advantages

- 1) Members of both houses investigate laws, policies & executive actions.
- 2) Members of opposition in committees like PAC, DRSCs, etc. brings larger accountability.
- 3) Committees are generally devoid of party considerations.
- 4) permanent in nature - works when house not in session W. off
- 5) e.g. PAC unearthed 29 & coal block scam.

However, as a reform measure, these committees should be regularly

Remarks

Hence, committees are inevitable in parliamentary scrutiny.
